Cartoonist, Illustrator & Graphic Designer, Tim Jackson

Creative License Studio was founded in 1985 to serve as an outlet for my art to the public...

Tim Jackson is a native of Dayton, Ohio, my childhood desire to be a cartoonist was first realized at the age of 14, when one of my cartoons appeared in the Dayton Journal Herald. This began his earliest introduction into journalism.

During high school, I participated in the school's newspaper as a means to get his cartoons in print, yet being eager to help out where he could, learned a little bit about writing and layout along the way.

After a series of his comic strips were printed in the Dayton Daily News, Jackson was offered a weekend job with the Dayton Black Press where he got the opportunity to watch and get some hands-on experience in the actual production of the community newspaper.
